TREATY WITH RUSSIA ABROGATED

PEARL HARBOR OPENING TO BE GRAND EVENT

Great preparations are going on now for the trip of the flagship California into Pearl Harbor on Thursday morning. The event should be a redletter one in the history of Honolulu, and no doubt it will be one of the greatest holidays that has ever been observed here. The members of the Chamber of Commerce will make the trip; there will be a train excursion, and it is decided that the Claudine of the Inter-Island fleet will take excursionists. In addition there will no doubt be a miscellaneous collection of craft there from the naval tug Navajo and the tug Intrepid to motor boats and sailing boats. The naval authorities will leave nothing undone to ensure the passage being negotiated with perfect safety.

Lieutenant Gaylor, U. S. N., is making a special map of the channel for the use of the navigators, and practically the course followed will be that of the completed channel. There will be but one slight deviation. The way will be clear. The dredges will be out of the way, and will be stationed as marks. The way the course is to be mapped out will make the maps useful for Thursday only. After that the great work will go on as usual, and the special maps will be wrong.

The naval authorities will take the flagship into the harbor without any help from the outside at all. Judging by the elaborate preparations that are made to ensure ease of navigation, the work of taking the warship in will be comparatively easy. A start will be made from the Naval wharf at half-past nine, and a large party will be taken. So far all the invitations have not been sent out.

Plans of the Chamber of Commerce include chartering the steamer Claudine from the Inter-Island Co. On board will be the members and the Hawaiian band, which will serenade the California as she makes the tortuous way up the channel. The Chamber of Commerce will likely distribute to the crew and the guests aboard the flagship yellow cap ribbons, as a memento of the trip. Delegate Kalaniana'ole has asked John F. Colburn to entertain the party at a luncheon on his behalf.

Judging by the enthusiastic manner in which everyone seems to be taking the matter up, the day should be a very successful one. The O. R. & L. Co. will no doubt have their trains crowded, and the Claudine too will almost certainly be fully patronized.

After the festivities are over, the California will proceed to sea again, anchoring off shore for the night, and leave for Hilo on Friday morning.

When the channel is completed, it should be an easy matter for ships to be taken in. The lighthouse establishment has asked congress for $30,000 for permanent buoys and marks, but this amount will not be forthcoming for some time yet, as there are no funds available. The present tem-

CHINA TROUBLE DELAYS SENDING TROOPS TO HAWAII

(Special Correspondence of The Star.)

WASHINGTON, November 29.—A halt in the program for sending additional troops to Hawaii has been caused through the domestic disturbances in China. The possibility that the United States will have to join with other powers in affording military protection for the railroad line in China in which foreign investors are interested makes it necessary for the war department to defer the movement of additional troops to Hawaii until the troubles in China cease, or, at least, until it is certain the United States will not have to send any of its troops there to do police duty.

General Wood, chief of staff, says he is strongly in favor of greatly augmenting the garrisons of United States troops in Hawaii, and his plan to send an additional regiment of infantry and one of field artillery will be carried into effect at the earliest practicable moment.

General Wood also still adheres to his plan for building barracks in the city of Honolulu instead of constructing an army post in the country. The department has two hundred thousand dollars available with which to commence the construction of the proposed cavalry post near Honolulu, but the war department will again ask congress to make this fund available for the purchase of land and the construction of infantry barracks within the city, and if the legislation requested is enacted the cavalry post idea will be abandoned and the plan for infantry barracks adopted in its stead.

RETRENCHMENT POLICY AGAINST HILO HARBOR

By J. A. BRECKONS.

(Special Correspondence of The Star.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—George McK. McClellan, secretary to Delegate Kalaniana'ole, has returned from his trip to Europe, taken for the purpose of getting his family comfortably settled for the winter in Switzerland. Mr. McClellan made a somewhat hurried tour through England, Ireland and France, and returned to Washington in time to meet the Delegate before the opening of Congress.

"The reduced estimates for Hawaii, as given out by the Rivers and Harbors Board, are somewhat disappointing," said Secretary McClellan to a Star representative, "but could not be avoided under existing circumstances. Long ago it was decided the appropriations for rivers and harbors should not exceed twenty-eight millions. When the estimates from the various projects were added, the enormous total of forty-seven million dollars was found to be the result. The only thing to do was to cut down everything, and postpone expenditures on projects located in the vicinity of other heavy expenditures from this fund. The Hilo harbor, therefore, in view of the large expenditures already carried in Hawaii, was one of the items slated for postponement."

Mr. McClellan's family will remain in Switzerland during the winter, returning to Washington next spring.

Kaui Also Must Wait.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Delay in receiving the report from the local engineer in charge prevented Kaui from being included in the estimates presented to Congress by the Rivers and Harbors Board. While it is probable that, on account of the severe cuts made by this board, the appropriation would have been small, it is believed that had the report reached Washington in time it would have resulted in a small estimate being included.

LATE COURT NOTES

Judge Robinson has allowed the Hawaiian Trust Company, administrator of the estate of the late W. C. Booth, two years in which to sell the Pauoa springs property, for the purchase of which the legislature authorized the expenditure of $100,000.

Alonza de Lora has filed suit against the Lord-Young Engineering Company for damages in the sum of $10,000 on account of injuries he claims to have received through the defendant's having employed an incompetent engineer on its Hilo breakwater job. He claims that on May 31, through carelessness on the part of the engineer, he was seriously injured by a rock falling from the crane.

An affidavit by Fred Harrison, contractor, which has been filed in the circuit court, charges John K. Sumner and A. V. Gear with the fraudulent use of certificates of stock in the Francis Levy Outfitting Company. Harrison claims they obtained his signature to a note by misrepresentation of the character of the security.

COMPOSITION OF ARMY BOARD ON HAWAIIAN ISLANDS GARRISON

WASHINGTON, November 25.—The important subject of the composition of the military force for the Hawaiian Islands has been referred to a special board in the War Department, consisting of Major H. Frank Cheatham, quartermaster's department; Major Jesse M. Carter of the cavalry arm, on duty in the office of the chief of staff; Captain John McA. Palmer, Fifteenth Infantry, or the general staff; Captain M. E. Hanna of the cavalry arm and of the general staff, and Captain S. D. Embick of the Coast Artillery and the general staff. It is necessary to determine the number of troops which will be required in the Hawaiian Islands before a decision can be reached concerning the selection of sites for permanent posts and the location at such posts of barracks and

TWO COLLECTORS OF MOSQUITOES

Dr. McCoy has assumed charge once more of the cleanup campaign. He has removed the deck gang of thirty-six men to apiana 4. These men will have no further work, for a few days, at the waterfront, as there will be no bananas hauled for that time. The men who were in apiana 4, and who have been relieved by the deck gang, will be put on mosquito work at once. They will proceed to install drip cans, oil pools and inspect house gutters.

Yesterday Dr. Mink, of the West Virginia, made the rounds of the city with Dr. Marshall and Dr. McCoy. Dr. Mink is from the United States Navy Medical College, and he studied for some time in the London Hospital of Tropical Diseases.

Dr. Mink is making a collection of mosquitoes, and he declares that there are some fine specimens to be obtained in Honolulu. Dr. Marshall is also making a collection of the mosquitoes of the city, and he will forward his lot to Dr. Blue, at Washington. Dr. Blue is to look them over and then send the collection on to Professor Needham of the London Tropical Hospital.

Yesterday 154 wagon loads of banana stumps and stalks were hauled to the different dumps.

CONVICT CUTS OWN THROAT

Pak Chai Gun, a Korean convict, working in a gang under Guard Eddie Kealoha, committed suicide this afternoon above the reservoir at Makiki by cutting his throat.

The dead man was sentenced to a term of imprisonment some time ago on a charge of vagrancy.

No further details are as yet forthcoming.

(Associated Press Cables to The Star.)

WASHINGTON, December 12.—The House committee on foreign relations agrees to the abrogation of the treaty between the United States and Russia as a result of the discrimination shown against the Jews. NEW YORK, December 12.—The American League has broken off relations with the National League as a result of the alleged ticket-scalping at New York during the world's baseball championship series. CONFESSION OF J. B. M'NAMARA

LOS ANGELES, December 5.—James B. McNamee's brief confession, penned by his own hand late yesterday and bearing many evidences of a man little skilled in letters, was made public today.—It is as follows:

"I, James B. McNamee, defendant in the case of the People, having heretofore pleaded guilty to the crime of murder, desire to make this statement of facts:

"And this is the truth: On the night of September 30, 1910, at 5:45 p. m., I placed in Ink alley, a portion of the Times building, a suitcase containing 16 sticks of 80 per cent dynamite, set to explode at 1 o'clock the next morning. It was my intention to injure the building and scare the owner. I did not intend to take the life of anyone. I sincerely regret that these unfortunate men lost their lives. If the giving of my life would bring them back I would gladly give it. In fact, in pleading guilty to murder in the first degree I have placed my life in the hands of the state.

(Signed) "JAMES B. M'NAMARA."

The confession covers one side of an ordinary sheet of paper and was written with a fountain pen supplied by one of the attorneys. It probably is the only written statement of the case that ever will be made by the writer or his brother, John J. McNamee, who pleaded guilty to dynamiting the Llewellyn Iron works.

INJURY TO MRS. WALTERS.

According to a report telephoned to the Star this afternoon, Mrs. (Dr.) Walters met with a painful accident last Sunday afternoon by falling from her horse. She broke a bone in her face and injured her thigh, but Dr. Herbert says the injuries are not at all serious.

Harriman Henry, the man accused of perjury before the grand jury and who was brought back from the Coast this morning in the Korea by Marshal Youngworth of Los Angeles, did not appear in the federal court this morning, court having adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. At that time he will come up before the court and the district attorney will ask for a committal of him pending his arraignment and trial.

SENTENCE TIME IS NOT YET SET

It is uncertain as yet just when John A. McMahon, convicted last night of voluntary manslaughter for the killing of Alexander N. Cedeno, will be sentenced. Judge Clemens stated this morning that it is customary to permit a certain length of time to elapse to allow of the defense preparing its notice of appeal. If such a notice is to be presented, however, it is hardly probable that, in view of the comparative mildness of the verdict, an appeal will be noted, though it is possible that there may be a motion for a new trial.

TRIANGULAR JURISDICTION OVER MILK QUESTION MAKES TROUBLE

That there will be a big row over the milk situation is the opinion of those who are in touch with the matter. Dr. Norgaard, who gave out a statement regarding the duties of the food commissioner, did not hand the document in to the members of the board of agriculture at the meeting yesterday afternoon.

The apparent cause of all the trouble is that while Inspector Richards, for the county, visits the dairies, Inspector Myhre performs the same duties for the food commissioner. There have been instances where refusals to give or sell samples of milk have been met with. Richards for the county, Myhre for the food commissioner and Norgaard as Territorial veterinarian, all have something to do with either the cows, the milk or the dairy premises. There is, from all indications, friction all around, and while Commissioner Blanchard would not say anything for publication this morning, he indicated where the trouble arose.

"The written statement of Dr. Norgaard is like most things that are done in a hurry, without the person responsible finding out the full facts of the case," said the food commissioner this morning.

"I do not care to discuss the matter of Dr. Norgaard's statement at present. I will consult with the president of the board of health about the matter, and may have something to say later on."

Dr. Norgaard's statement was to the effect that Blanchard is "biting in" to affairs outside his department, and that the food commissioner is usurping all sorts of powers.

Dr. Norgaard's Statement.

Dr. Victor Norgaard was seen by a Star representative at noon today. He stated that, with reference to the story in the morning paper, regarding Food Commissioner Blanchard, he did not intend the letter for publication. Dr. Norgaard admitted that the sentiments expressed were what he felt at the time that he made the notes, but that he meant to change and modify the matter therein a lot, before sending it in to the Board of Agriculture.

"I made a lot of notes about the matter and then threw them aside in a drawer. These notes were typewritten and, in some way, found their way into the hands of the reporter for the morning paper. The document was never presented, in proper manner, to the board members, and I am sorry that the story was printed."

COAST RUMOR PERSISTS THAT THE FLEET WILL GO TO CHINA

The San Francisco Call of December 4 has the following in its marine news:

"Orders are expected any moment from Washington, D. C., directing the naval collier Prometheus, now anchored in the stream, to proceed at once to join the Pacific fleet. The collier arrived several days ago from San Diego, where it was used in conjunction with the target practice of the Pacific fleet.

"It is expected that by the time orders arrive for the collier to proceed to the Hawaiian Islands, the United States naval supply ship Glacier, Captain C. Brand, which is in the harbor, will have taken aboard its full amount of supplies and will be ready to proceed with the Prometheus to the Islands.
